Computer Hardware and Software

Choosing the right products for your business computer systems and networks isn't just a case of finding great prices and deals - you also need to know that the equipment. Is it fit for purpose and compatible with your existing infrastructure?

That's why it's a good idea to deal with a supplier like AS Technologies, who through our partnerships with leading industry vendors and distributors know more about the latest products available in today's saturated marketplace. We partner Cisco, Microsoft, HP amongst others.

We are also highly experienced and have a proven track record when it comes to server installation or migration. Servers are an integral component of most networks that require fast file sharing, emails, databases and email services. Based on this, we design and install cost effective customisable solutions that help increase productivity. Our engineers have installed single servers for small businesses as well as multiple servers. We maintain them and keep them running optimally for years.
